

Mariem Ben Said

Mariem Ben Said, Food Safety & Quality Assurance Lead at CL VP office.

Mariem holds a Master's Degree in Sciences Nutrition, Quality and Food Safety (Food processing, Food analysis techniques, Biochemistry and Physiology of Nutrition and Food Microbiology, Quality Management and Production Management skills, Management and Food Law skills) Engineering of Industrial Systems at Paul Cézanne University, Aix-Marseille III/ France.

Mariem is registered trainer at Highfield and approved trainer under Chartered Institute of Environmental Health (CIEH) in Food Safety, HACCP and Nutrition which are internationally recognized standards. She is also a Certified Lead auditor in Occupational Health and Safety and IRCA Food safety management systems.

Mariem is highly motivated and focused individual, with a strong track record of success in food and retail operations management, apart from Food Safety & Hygiene expertise.

During the pick of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Food Safety and Quality (FSQ) team which Mariem leads has played a particularly important role. The FSQ COVID-19 team was created, and several additional control measures were put into place to ensure the highest standards in food safety, cleaning and disinfection, as well as public health for the community.

